

St Mary's
University
Twickenham
London

SEND for ECTs: from Policy to Practice

CPD recognised

15th November 2024

9am-4pm | St Mary's University

£40

A one-day conference for Early Career Teachers on practical strategies and understandings for working with children and young people with SEND.

Presentations and workshops will be given by established practitioners and specialists across a range of SEND topics: Autism, ADHD, dyslexia, dyspraxia, sensory impairment, speech and language, the role of the SENCO, the SEND Code of Practice in action.

A special keynote lecture will be given.

The conference has been designed to enrich the learning and teaching of everyone in your inclusive classroom. It will provide practical insights and support and a chance to ask questions to expert specialists and practitioners. There will be an opportunity at lunch time to explore a range of materials, publications or tools that can be integrated into your teaching strategies and the time to exchange contact information and build a network that you can turn to for support or collaboration in the future.

To express your interest or book your place:

Please contact: Lizzy Jackson – elizabeth.jackson@stmarys.ac.uk